Threatening weather has again called off the amateur day, and the gathering of the clans will not take place, according to the information given out by Chairman Charles King of the Amateur Commission.

"We thought it best to call off the parade and celebration today," said Chairman King, "because of the weather, and the fact that all of the teams are up in the air, and don't know whether to report or not. Manager Griffith has agreed to the postponement, and the date will be selected in the near future. About ten days from today we will probably hold the event."

That the celebration of the event will in no way suffer by reason of two postponements is Chairman King's opinion. There is every reason for putting the event later now that there have been two false starts, and the fact that the teams will have ten days to make preparations for the event is going to draw out more players to take part in the parade.

It is more than likely that other features will be added to the celebration of amateur day at the baseball park now that the commission has more time to straighten the difficulties out. On Tuesday several teams reported in the rain, and today the commission was not able to get around to all of the teams which were to be in line for the event. Now that the day has been postponed the amateurs will all get a fresh start when the date is announced.

Departmental League.
Commerce and Labor played eleven innings to a 0 to 0 score yesterday, furnishing one of the best games that has been seen in the circuit this season. Interior got but three hits off Bell, while Commerce and Labor got but one off Flannery.

Flannery hung up a record when he fanned twenty-three batters yesterday. Bell got ten. Pollock of Interior was the only player for his team who got more than one hit. He registered two off Bell.

East Washington S. S. League.
Madigan, pitching for the First M. P. team, made quite a strike-out record against First Presbyterian yesterday, fanning fifteen, and winning a 7 to 6 game. Ten errors marred the game somewhat, and were responsible for a number of runs.

Mars was the flower on the sack, coping four altogether. He got on bases often enough to worry the opposing pitchers, and was instrumental in putting his team ahead.

Northern Association.
Regents got together and handed the Waverly outfit a whitewash yesterday, scoring six runs. Stringer pitched glittered ball for the winners, and allowed but four hits.

Ten hits were hammered out by the Regents players, and Pitcher Stanley, as found when the runs were needed, both teams felled well, but three errors coming in the game.

Treasury League.
Civil Service handed Auditor for State a 8 to 6 defeat yesterday, winning the game in the early innings, and establishing a lead which service never overcame.

Hull and Rector were the leading

SYRACUSE LOOKED ON AS DARK HORSE AT POUGHKEEPSIE

Cornell Is Favorite in Regatta, With Leland Stanford Long Shot.

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., June 27.—With the big intercollegiate regatta but two days away, the coaches of the various squads in training here gave orders for light work today.

Those who have been studying the work of Syracuse University during the past few days declare that Ten Eyck's crew bids fair to prove a formidable dark horse in the big eight-oared event on Saturday.

The weather was cooler today, and a stiff breeze whipped the course into white caps, necessitating careful handling of the shells.

The vanguard of the visitors, aside from those who are interested in the technical side of rowing and who are already on the ground, will begin arriving early tomorrow.

Columbia 5 to 2.
Preliminary betting favors Cornell to win the freshman eight-oared event. Several hundred dollars were wagered by early-comers on Cornell against the field in the varsity eight event.

Lumbia was quoted at 5 to 2 against the field, and Syracuse 3 to 1 against the field. Leland Stanford was the longest shot in the varsity eight, being quoted at 10 to 1.

In the four-oared race Cornell's odds were 1 to 2. Cornell men asked odds of 7 to 2 that Cornell would sweep the boards. On the Cornell-Columbia end more money has been placed than upon any other combination. The Wisconsin crews are all in good condition, but none of the army of experts here seems to figure them as serious contenders in any of the three events.

LEECH IS WINNER OF CONSOLATION MATCH FROM WINTER

Winter and Graves Defeat McLean and Evans in Men's Doubles.

The honor of winning the consolation in the men's singles of the first annual tennis tournament of the Columbia Country Club belongs to A. Y. Leech, who defeated Alpheus Winter yesterday.

Leech's clever serves were, for the most part, too swift for Winter. Nine games were deuced in the third set. Summary:

MEN'S CONSOLATIONS.
Semifinal round—A. Y. Leech defeated E. W. Deakin by 6-7 and 6-1; Alpheus Winter defeated Dr. Warren Brice by default.

Final round—A. Y. Leech defeated A. Winter by 7-5, 6-4, and 7-5.

MEN'S DOUBLES.
First round—Alpheus Winter and E. C. Graves defeated Norris W. McLean and O. R. Evans by 6-0 and 6-2; John C. Davidson and Eddie B. Eymon, Jr. defeated H. C. Sheridan and F. L. Davis by default.

Play will continue this afternoon at 2 o'clock, with the following card:

MEN'S DOUBLES.
First round—Connie B. Doyle and G. A. Mills vs. A. Y. Leech and A. B. Shelton; L. D. Underwood and Robert W. Cox vs. Jack Kreh and H. N. Brown; E. O. Leech and George P. James vs. Tom Grant and Herbert T. Shannon; T. R. Heath and Hugh Mackenzie vs. Sam Herrick and J. A. Kratz.

Fort Myer Polo Team At Bryn Mawr Today

PHILADELPHIA, June 27.—Local society today will have the treat of the season, when they witness the first polo game of the year, in which officers of the United States Army will take part here. The polo team from Fort Myer will play a picked team from the First City Troop, Philadelphia Cavalry.

The local team will consist of J. Franklin McFadden, A. M. Collins, Charles Wheeler, and F. H. Dougherty. They will meet on the Bryn Mawr polo field. The army contingent consists of Captain Lindsey, Thirteenth Cavalry; Lieutenant Downer, Thirteenth Cavalry; and Lieutenants Rumbaugh, Searles, and Foster, all from the Thirteenth Cavalry.

The two games to be played on the Bryn Mawr field are forerunners of the polo tournament for United States cavalrymen, to be played at Washington from July 10 to 20. In this tournament the team will be picked which will be sent to Narragansett this summer to compete with the crews of the country. Four teams have entered the Washington tournament. They are from Fort Sam Houston, Fort Riley, West Point, and Fort Ogilthorpe.

New Ticket Office.
Since the crowds at National Park have grown so large the fans have been taking full advantage of the different places in the downtown section where reserved seats and boxes may be purchased. The latest office to be added to the list is Sam Steinberger's, at Eleventh street and Pennsylvania avenue.

Former Manager of "Bandits" Is Released

NEW YORK, June 27.—President Fongel of the Philadelphia National League team, announced today that he had unconditionally released George Brown, substitute outfielder, Browne formerly one of the stars of the New York Nationals, started in this season as manager of the Washington "bandits" of the United States League. President McCaffery, of the Toronto International League club, talked for some time with President Fongel yesterday, in an effort to get some of Philadelphia's extra men. It is said that a deal by which Catcher Graham will go to Toronto will be arranged today.

Callahan's Pitchers Are Veritable Giants

The measurements of the Chicago Americans' pitchers show the average size to be greater probably than that of any other club in the major leagues. It is doubtful if any other club can show a taller assemblage of slabs than exhibited by President Comiskey, of the White Sox, in 1902. Here are the White Sox pitchers and their measurements, showing them to be a team of physical giants:

Ed Walsh—Height, 6 feet 1 inch; weight, 193 pounds; heaviest fungo hitter in baseball and one of the greatest speed merchants in the game.

Jimmy Scott—Height, 6 feet 1/2 inch; weight, 187 pounds.
Joe Benz—Height, 6 feet 3/4 inches; weight, 196 pounds. One of the strongest ball players in the major leagues.
Rube Peters—Height, 6 feet; weight, 185 pounds.
George Mogridge—Height, 6 feet 1 inch; weight, 178 pounds.
Doc White—Height, 6 feet; weight, 160 pounds.
Frank Lange—Height, 5 feet 10 inches; weight, 155 pounds.

Morey Dartmouth Head.

HANOVER, N. H., June 27.—It was announced today that the Dartmouth College baseball team had elected David B. Morey, 18, of Malden, Mass., captain for next year.
